Commission Discusses New Jail Financing

Will Ask Bond Firms for Bids During Regular Meeting Feb. 27

Following a discussion of possible ways for financing construction of a new jail for Randall County, the commissioners court Monday decided to invite bond firms to meet with the court Feb. 27 to find the best way to provide such financing. Two bond men, Bill Hamilton of Burt, Hamilton and Company, Dallas, and Bob Davis of Columbian Securities Corporation, Amarillo, told the court Monday that they believed that issuing warrants would be the best method.

In suggesting the warrant method of financing, the bond men said that it would save money in the long run on so small an issue as the proposed jail. They and the commissioners mentioned $150,000 as a probable top price that would be needed.

No estimate of cost has been made, however. The commissioners have selected no architect, and have seen only preliminary pencil sketches submitted by various architectural firms.

During the meeting Monday, the commissioners met with the Randall County Grand Jury, which was also in session.

During the meeting, the commissioners told the grand jury that some progress is being made toward providing a new jail and that some action is expected in the next 60 days, according to A. W. Lair, criminal district attorney.

The grand jury urged that project be speeded as much as possible, Lair said. During the joint meeting, the possible location of the new jail was discussed.

Lair said the grand jury concurred with the commissioners in the belief that the building should be constructed on the present square in Canyon on land already owned by the county. They also believed that it should be connected with the present courthouse in such a way that the handling of prisoners could be facilitated and the work of the sheriff could be better coordinated with that of the courts.

In recent meetings, the commissioners had discussed the idea of providing a covered hallway from the second floor of the new building to the second floor of the courthouse so prisoners could be brought directly from the jail to court without parading them across the square.

They felt that neither the prisoners nor the public should be exposed to each other.

In the meeting Monday, Hamilton and Davis counseled that issuing warrants for the jail construction would be the cheapest way to obtain money for the building. The warrants would be refunded into "refunding" bonds when the entire construction was finished at a probable lower rate of interest.

The bond men said that they would like to have the business of the county if they decided to hold a bond election or if they decided to issue warrants, and made a proposal in writing.

The commissioners said they were not ready to make any definite commitment and the proposal was withdrawn pending the meeting Feb. 27.

Hamilton and Davis said under the warrant plan, the county would select an architect and have plans prepared and an estimate of cost made.

The court would then advertise for bids for construction of the building and the advertisement

Sheriff Cleared In Higgins Death

The Randall County Grand Jury Tuesday cleared Sheriff L. S. Johnston and his deputies of any negligence in the hanging death of a prisoner in the county jail last Wednesday.

Gayle G. Higgins, 35-year-old Dawn farmer, was found hanging in a cell of the jail about 4 p. m. by Deputies Bill Wilson and Ray Tinsley.

Coroner Carl Anderson returned a verdict of suicide after Higgins failed to respond to artificial respiration and to a resuscitator. Sheriff Johnston said Higgins seemed to show signs of life after he was taken down.

Wilson and Tinsley applied artificial respiration and the oxygen machine was rushed from Warren Funeral Chapel.

Higgins apparently tore an army blanket into strips, tied them together and fastened one end to bars about 12 feet off the floor. Sheriff Johnston said he apparently tied one end around his neck and rolled off his bunk.

Higgins was being held in the jail pending transfer to the state hospital in Wichita Falls. He had been in ill health and had been despondent since the drowning death of his son, Robert, 13, in Buffalo Lake last summer.

Two other prisoners were in the jail at the time of the death, but both were sleeping and did not notice Higgins' actions.

During the investigation of the death by the grand jury, members of the family testified that they were satisfied that the sheriff's office was not at fault, A. W. Lair, criminal district attorney, said.

He said that the grand jury found there was no negligence on the part of the officers of the sheriff's department and that the sheriff did the best he could with the equipment available.

Higgins' survivors include his wife, Jo; a son, Herbert; a daughter, Martha Frances; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Higgins, all of Hereford; two brothers, Jack and Wayne Higgins, both of Wildorado; and two sisters, Mrs. Imogene Wills and Mrs. Frances Earley, both of Hereford.

Heart Sunday Set Feb. 26

Sunday, Feb. 26, is Heart Sunday in Canyon.

From 4 to 6 p. m. the entire city will be covered with a house-to-house canvas by volunteer workers who will accept contributions to the Heart Fund.

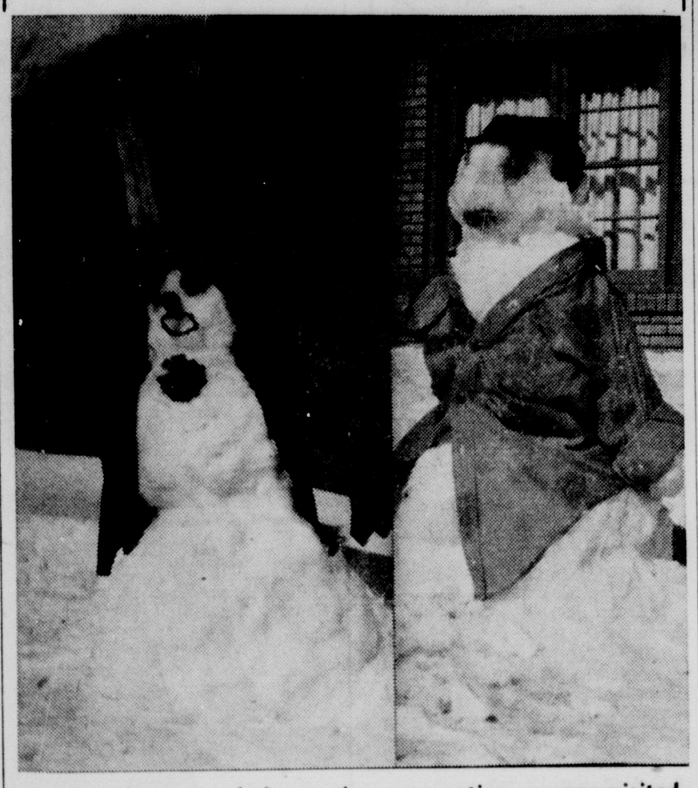
The fund is used to conduct education campaigns on heart diseases, finance research and provide community service.

Complete plans for Heart Sunday will be announced by A. W. Lair, Heart Fund chairman for Randall County.

Snowmaiden

Ravaged by a couple of days of bright sunshine, Miss Stafford Hall of 1956 is worse for the wear. The sun had melted away much of the right side of the snowmaiden, which was sculptured by residents of Stafford Hall at the college.

Gopher the Ladies?



A dressed-up snow lady wearing a carnation corsage visited the H. R. Fulton Jr. home soon after the snow while a gopher moved in and stood around in K. L. Pond's front yard.

Record Number of Poll Taxes Issued; South Amarillo Larger than County

In a last-minute whirl of activity apparently in South Amarillo, the sale of poll taxes in Randall County exceeded all previous records.

A total of 7,573 receipts were issued, more than two-thirds of which were purchased in the South Amarillo precincts.

The total of receipts plus exemptions issued puts the number of qualified voters in the county at more than 8,000. An additional unknown number of persons over 60 years old who are qualified to vote without exemptions makes the total almost 9,000.

The poll tax receipts plus the known exemptions totals 8,301. Tax Collector Bill Money estimated there are another 300 to 400 persons who live in Canyon and in other parts of the county who will be able to vote without exemptions.

In addition, others who became 21 at least 30 days prior to any election may vote in that election by obtaining an exemption certificate at least 30 days before the election.

In 1952, the last general election year, some 5,690 poll taxes were purchased.

In that year, there were 3,569 poll taxes paid in South Amarillo. That total this year is 5,407, more than twice as many as in the rest of the county.

Also in that year, there were 1,629 receipts issued in Canyon, while there were 1,559 this year.

By voting precincts, the number of poll taxes paid this year were:

Precinct	Number
1	1,030
2	51
3	105
4	36
5	84
6	159
7	34
8	138
9	1,565
10	1,166
11	702
12	1,974
13	529

During the past year, the county commissioners added four new voting precincts by splitting existing boxes.

The South Amarillo precincts are 9, 10, 11 and 12. Canyon has precincts 1 and 13.

Two of the South Amarillo boxes have a larger number of qualified voters than the city of Canyon.

All precincts showed an increase in the number of qualified voters from 1952 except the Canyon precincts, precinct 2, precinct 4 and precinct 8. In 1952 the Canyon total was 1,629; precinct 2 totaled 56, precinct 4 totaled 45 and precinct 8 totaled 143.

P-TA Will Meet Tomorrow Night

The P-TA will have a regular meeting tomorrow night in the high school auditorium at 7:45 p. m. Dr. A. M. Meyer is to speak on "The Family Develops a Happy Personality."

Music will be furnished by the junior high school ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Hope Rusk. The Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks will give the invocation.

Rev. W. W. Adcock Slated to Speak

Following a family night supper at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, the Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Pampa, will speak on world peace.

The Rev. Adcock is chairman of the commission on world peace in the Northwest Texas Conference and has had special training in this work. He is convinced that the church must lead the way in establishing world peace.

The public is invited.

Professional Ethics Topic for Teachers

Canyon Classroom Teachers will hold their February meeting Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the high school cafeteria.

Mae Simmons will have charge of the program on professional ethics. Future Teachers of America will be guests.

Special License Numbers Ready

Tax Assessor-Collector Bill Money this week asked that those who had requested special license plate numbers between BB 10 and BB 600 should pick them up.

The 1956 plates went on sale Feb. 1, and must be on all cars by April 1.

Red Cross Work Underway Now

The 1956 Red Cross Campaign will begin in Randall County on March 1, according to H. G. Persons, campaign chairman.

He is now organizing the workers needed for the coming campaign, and those interested should contact Persons at 904 Sixth Ave. or by calling OL 5-3044.

Persons said a large number of volunteers will be needed in the campaign.

Canyon High Band Slates Annual Winter Concert Tuesday Night

The annual winter concert of the Canyon High School Band and the coronation of the band queen will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the auditorium of the elementary school.

Candidates for the band queen are Judy Newman, Sara Jo Hickman, La Verne Riley and Frances Boyd.

Following the concert, a meeting of the Band Parents Club will be held.

Conducted by Herman W. Demus, the program will include "The Hall of Fame March" (Olivadoti), "The Impresario Overture" (Mozart); "Conroe March" (Cannan), "Pavane" (Ravel), "Three Sketches for Band" (Morrissey), "Caribbean Carnival" (Bennett), "In a Clock Store" (Orth), and "March Greenbury" (Mesang).

Mistress of ceremonies for the coronation will be Maxine Greene and the presentation will be by Wilford Taylor III, president of the band council.

"Tenderly" will be played as theme music during the coronation.

Members of the band council in addition to Taylor include Dana Wilbanks, vice president, Miss Boyd, secretary, Mayla Atkinson, treasurer, Johnnye Weeks, senior representative, Martha Harding, junior representative, Carolyn Glanton, sophomore representative, and John Mann, freshman representative.

Members of the band are:

Flutes: Miss Atkinson, Sally Foster, Miss Greene, Martha Maddux, Barbara Myers and Mary Whealy.

Oboe: Liston Coleman.

Bassoon: Wilbanks.

B-flat Clarinets: Jackie Barnard, Florence Clement, Dorothy Cranmer, Miss Glanton, Patricia Hardaway, Miss Harding, Ann Jarrett, Mann, John Menke, Miss Newman, Nita Newton, Sue Reynolds, Miss Riley, Tillie Ruggles, Letha Sheets, Christina Sikes and John Robert Wheelock.

Bass Clarinets: Velma Frank and Weeks.

Alto Saxophones: Katie Devenport and Sondra Hines.

Tenor Saxophones: Avalon Brown and Bobby Samuelson.

Baritone Saxophone: Jimmie Boyd.

Cornets: Barbara Brown, Charles Cooper, Walter Cranmer, Joan Gressett, Bob McKay, Dwayne Massey, Ernestine Pond, Perry Slagle, Brian Tolliver and John Winters.

French Horns: Miss Boyd, Patricia Burgess, Royce Gum, David Hawkins and Mike Wheeler.

Baritones: June Gressett, Bobby Hacker and Glenn Rusk.

Trombones: Frank Barnhill, Edgar Cranmer, Dwayne Pettit, Gary Hicks and Taylor.

Basses: Jim Flynn, Rhett Plank and Bonnell Riley.

Drums: Miss Hickman, Sue McClenny, Joy Oldham and Joyce Shelnutt.

Cold Pup

Disdaining the usual, youngsters who live in the J. D. Barker neighborhood fashioned a snow dog styled somewhat like a bulldog, or maybe a dachshund, and decorated it with red ribbons.

College Royalty Elected at WT

West Texas State College students, in a campus wide election, have chosen "royalty" for the annual Plains Personality Pageant, slated here March 16.

Six girls and six men were given titles in order of votes received, with the highest honors going to the king and queen of personality. Results of the election will not be revealed until the pageant is held.

Invitations to the annual WT entertainment will go to hundreds of high schools and junior colleges of the Panhandle and South Plains. Couples, usually the schools' own king and queen of personality, will represent their schools at the affair.

Coeds chosen were Barbara Beck, Amarillo; Fredie Jo Carter, Sunray; Carolyn Christian, Claude; Floella Cubine, McLean; Shirley Davis, Pecos; and Margaret Houston, Amarillo.

Boys named were Bill Hunter, Dimmitt; Dean Kelly, Amarillo; Buddy Knox, Canyon; Eddie Reeves, McLean; Allen Simpson, Borger; and Phillip Wright, Borger.

Cubs To Try Again; Paper Drive Still On

The Cub Scouts will try again this Saturday to pick up newspapers and magazines saved by Canyon citizens, according to Roland Black.

He said the snow kept the scouts off the pickup trail last Saturday. He asked that those who are saving paper bundle it up and throw it in the front yard Saturday morning.

Taylor Hearing Set March 13

Walter Graham, Newton Crain and B. R. Jones were sworn in as special commissioners Monday morning to conduct a hearing and set a price to be paid Taylor and Sons for condemnation of their property to make way for the expressway.

The commissioners set March 13 as the date for the hearing.

The condemnation proceedings against Taylor and Sons were instituted in December. When the commissioners set the price to be paid, the county must put that amount in escrow.

If neither Taylor and Sons or the county want to accept the price set by the commission, the judgment may be appealed to the county court. In any event, the expressway work will not be held up during litigation.

Lions Conclave Meets Sunday

The District 2-T-1 Lions Club Mid-Winter Conference, originally scheduled for Canyon on "Snowy Sunday," Feb. 5, has been rescheduled for this Sunday.

The program as outlined for the original meeting will be followed and includes the appearance of Edward G. Barry of Little Rock, Ark., second vice president of Lions International.

Also scheduled to speak during the day-long conference are W. T. (Dub) Nelson of Childress, district governor, and Dr. Richard A. Self of Dallas, international director.

The conference will begin Sunday morning with registration. The governor's cabinet meeting will be held in the cafeteria at the college at 8:30 a. m.

The morning business session will end at 10:30 a. m. with a break for a coffee session, which will be followed by chapel services in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel.

At noon the visiting Lions will be guests of the Canyon club at a dinner in the elementary school cafeteria. Business sessions will take up the rest of the day.

Committee Plans Public School Week Observance

Planning for the Canyon observance of Texas Public Schools Week March 5 to 9 has been started by a committee of the faculty of the Canyon public school system and representatives of the churches and civic clubs.

The theme of the observance will be "Public Schools—The Foundation of Democracy." Objectives of the week will be to bring the citizens of the community to the public schools; to show how the public schools teach the fundamentals of citizenship; to develop better understanding between parents and teachers; and to demonstrate that Johnny can read.

Civic clubs will sponsor programs during the week honoring the schools. Other programs at the schools are being planned by the committee in an attempt to "bring the town to the school" and to "take the school to the town."

Serving on the committee are Mrs. Irene C. Ball, Mrs. Lucille Davis, Mrs. Mary B. Weeks, Rex Reeves, Bob Wear, Mrs. Joe Findley, Clark Jarnagin, Mrs. Linnie Harter, Sarah Thompson, D. E. Lowes, J. E. Miller, L. H. Brotherton, Dr. C. R. Nester, Dr. Emmitt Smith and Newton Crain. Supt. Joe Gibson is chairman, Lowes, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Findley, secretary.

With a beatific smile, a praying snowman stood in front of Mrs. Frances E. Davis' home at 1809 Second Avenue following the big snow.

World Day of Prayer Here Friday

At 11 a. m. Thursday, our time, Queen Salote of the Tonga Islands, located just west of the International Date Line, will lead her subjects in prayer.

At the same time, all through that time zone, other people will bow their heads. Each hour thereafter, people in succeeding time zones will begin to pray.

By 11 a. m. Friday, those of us who live in the Central Standard Time Zone will reach our time to participate in the 70th observance of the World Day of Prayer.

Services in Canyon will be in the First Presbyterian Church. Children's services will begin at 3:45 p. m. in the First Christian Church. A nursery will be provided for youngsters at the Presbyterian Church.

The purpose of the World Day of Prayer is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and to make an offering for Christian missions all over the world.

The program each year comes from a different country. This year's service came from the Cook Christian Training School for Indians at Phoenix, Ariz.

The morning services here will be followed at noon by a covered dish luncheon. During the afternoon a film and a presentation of the work of the World Day of Prayer will be shown.

Sponsored by the United Church Women, the world-wide program has a theme this year of "One Flock, One Shepherd."

The children's service in the afternoon will be conducted entirely by the children with the exception of an explanation of the observance by Mrs. Lloyd Devin.

Special offerings will be taken at both services. The funds collected are given to worthy causes throughout the world by the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

Among the causes taken care of by the council are religious activities, training and guidance for American Indians, low-income farming communities and agricultural migrants all in the United States.

In other countries, the funds provide education for Christian leadership in Eastern Asia, the Near East and Africa; sending Christian Literature to foreign countries and helping foreign students in the United States; operating missionaries and a special program of interchanging persons between the United States and other countries for study during the World Day of Prayer period.

The other night on television I heard an announcer pronounce it "Heh-ree-ford," which seems to me a direct slam not only on our neighboring city but on a great segment of the cattle industry. If those Yankee announcers can't get England (where the name is pronounced in that odd way) off their minds, it might be a nice idea for them to leave the west alone.

It grates on my nerves considerably to hear those Yankees say "oow-yo-tee" and "ro-day-o." One of the biggest laughs, though, is to hear a stranger try to tackle Quitaque. That's hard for some natives.

Hosea Foster has the same trouble, too. I've heard his first name pronounced "Hoe-see," "Hozzah" and once, I swear, I heard a radio announcer mumble rather than pronounce the name.

There may be more of us Bills than there are people, but no one seems to have much trouble pronouncing our names.

In case you are interested, the trustees of the Cowboy Hall of Fame, which settled in Oklahoma City, have started a fund-raising campaign to get the first 20 per cent of the $5 million promised for the building.

They are also sponsoring a national design competition to select the architect. They are hoping that at least part of the memorial will be ready by 1957, the state's 50-year anniversary.

Humph! Back in 1907, when Oklahoma was a'borning, the end of the big cattle ranch employing hundreds of cowboys was already in sight in the cow country. The Cowboy Hall of Fame will have to import some real, live cowboys from Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana or Wyoming to help celebrate the opening. They won't find many old-timers in Okie-land, at least not from around Oklahoma City.

I wish someone would tell me whether Price Daniel is going to run for governor, and if he will resign from the Senate if he does. I'd like to know how he might carry Randall County if he runs.

I'd be pleased to have that information on every other possible candidate, too. I'd be grateful to the person who might tell me if Eisenhower will run again for the Presidency, and if he doesn't, who the Republican candidate might be.

You see, everytime I get away from home, someone says to me, "You're a newspaper editor. Tell me, who's going to . . ."

I've got no answer, except every once in a while I take a deep breath and spout off something or the other. It would be nice to be able to make a prediction with some feeling of sureness and authority.

Do you know what the second biggest killer in Texas is? The first, naturally, is the automobile. The second—heart diseases.

This is the month of the annual Heart Fund campaign conducted by the Texas Heart Association and local associations. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, a heart-victim last summer, is state chairman for the drive.

Money raised in the campaign is used to finance continued research, education and community heart programs. Probably in the long run, contributions to the Heart Fund will pay off better than any other investment you could make.

A. A. Elwart, who lives in Oregon and is a faithful subscriber to The Canyon News, enclosed a climatological summary for Tillamook, Ore., when he renewed his subscription recently.

Penned at the bottom of the summary was this note: "Wish you could have some of our average temperatures and half of our rainfall."

During 1955, for instance, Tillamook had 103 inches of rain and the annual mean temperature is 49.8 degrees.

It's easy for me to understand Elwart's wish for half of their rain, and thank you, sir. But, I wonder if he wants our temperature to be warmer or cooler.

The average runs about the same there during the year, from a low average of 39.2 degrees in January of 1952 to 59.9 degrees in August, 1952.

The summary says: "While extreme temperatures of 0 degrees have never been recorded those of freezing or lower occur on an average of one or more days every month in the year except June, July and August."

It says that Tillamook has a very definite marine climate, and with that I agree. In fact, with 103 inches of rain, the town must be under water a good part of the time.

There are a heck of a lot of cars in Texas. For its initial assignment to Harris County, which includes Houston or maybe it's the other way around, the state gave 397,770 sets of license plates for automobiles.

Dallas County was assigned 224,707 sets; Potter County 42,655 sets; and Randall County 11,688. Randall County's numbers are BA 8300 to BA 9999 and BB 10 to BB 9999. South Amarillo gets the BA number and the rest of the county has the BB ones.

They are on sale at the county tax offices here and in Amarillo, by the way.

What greater tribute could be paid to an author than Charles Dickens received? As the succeeding installments of "Old Curiosity Shop" appeared in a magazine, readers in great numbers wrote to the novelist, begging him not to let Little Nell die and when a ship arrived from England with copies of the newest issue, crowds waiting on the wharf shouted to the passengers, "Is Little Nell dead?"

A creature of Dickens' imagination but he made her so real that millions loved her and shed tears when she died!

William Jennings Bryan was taken seriously as a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1896 by only one man—himself. The night before he was to close the debate on the adoption of a platform, the young editor from Newbraska was having dinner with a friend in a hotel dining room. In the lobby a band was playing in behalf of Bland and when the music paused there would be shouts from supporters of DuBoles. Bryan remarked to his friend, "They don't know it but this time tomorrow they will be shouting for me. Senator Hill (of New York who was to make the principal speech on the other side) believes in our cause but he will be speaking the sentiments of his section; his heart will not be in it. I helped to write the platform; I believe in the soundness of every word. I will make the speech of my life."

And he did. His "Crown of Thorns and Cross of Gold" address electrified the convention and he won the nomination.

When Theodore Roosevelt was police commissioner of New York City a speaker was scheduled to make a speech against the Jewish race. There were reports that violence would break out if the man attempted to make the speech. Roosevelt said he believed in free speech—and he sent 20 policemen to see that the speaker was allowed to talk. All 20 of the policemen were Jews and they preserved order while the intolerant speech was being made.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Benson Blooper

The recent Harper's Magazine article condemning the American farmer as a master of chicanery, artifice and trickery in robbing the public treasury was another excellent example of ignorance at work with a poison pen.

In the first place, it was obvious that the writer was completely devoid of any understanding of the farm economy of this country. In the second place, it was most obvious that the article was not intended as a contribution toward the solution of the farm crisis. Third, it was clear that the article was written and published with a total disregard of the human element involved in the farm situation.

It was, perhaps, one of the most vicious pieces of propaganda that has yet been loosed against the agricultural segment of our economy and was published in a city magazine for city consumption.

Although the article was highly praised in a letter signed by the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, the said Secretary, when the matter was made public, promptly denied having read the article or the letter that he signed praising it. He promptly issued a statement that the article did not reflect his views.

In all fairness I must say that I feel that Mr. Benson is definitely telling the truth when he tried to disassociate himself with the letter praising such a distorted statement concerning our farm people.

Any man who would underwrite such conclusions as those in that article would be out of his mind and certainly not qualified to serve as Secretary of Agriculture or in any other official position concerning the farm economy.

I feel that Benson's situation is, perhaps, one of neglect, not only in signing such a letter, but in permitting those who wrote the letter and whose views are undoubtedly reflected thereby to remain on the public payroll in the Department of Agriculture.

We all know that the physical operation of all the departments is in the hands of lesser officials and other employes, that it would be humanly impossible for the Secretary, himself, to do even a little bit of the physical work required in administering the overall operation.

Therein lies the sadness of the present situation. The letter reflects the thinking of the lesser officials who are charged with the administration of the programs.

It further reflects that these programs are undoubtedly in the hands of city people who were never on a farm, or people who have been away from the farm so long that they have taken up city ways and forgotten the problems of their forebears.

The article would have been more factual had it pictured the American farmer as the victim of the masters of chicanery, artifice and trickery and have stated that it would appear that some of those masters or their willing slaves had infiltrated into the Department of Agriculture.

If Benson is sincere in saying that the letter does not reflect his views, he has it in his power to correct the bad situation that prevails. He can relieve his Department and the American farmer of those who are presently fostering such views and apparently enjoying the power of administration.

The Declaration of Washington

British Prime Minister Anthony Eden has just concluded his speech to the House of Representatives. Prior to his appearance in our Chamber, he had addressed the United States Senate. He delivered a prepared speech and then turned to extemporaneous remarks.

Like most other people, he is a much better speaker extemporaneously than when delivering his remarks from a prepared text. He pointed out with great detail the criticisms that had been directed against England on the foreign aid issue, and then remarked that England was not seeking more money, that she was now able to stand on her own economic feet and expected to continue to do so in the future.

Needless to say, this pronouncement met with loud applause. He was soundly applauded for several other statements during his talk.

On one of these there was a political division. He made some kind remarks about General Marshall which were met with applause from the Democratic side of the aisle and silence on the Republican side.

He called attention to the fact that the night before, he and the President of the United States had signed the Declaration of Washington. I am sure you are all familiar with the terms of that Declaration, as it has been published in full in most papers.

Although embodying many general terms, it is primarily directed at the number one trouble spot of the world, to wit, the Near East. If conflict can be avoided in that area, much will be gained.

As it presently stands, a small spark could start a severe conflagration. Let us hope that the peoples involved will heed the call of peace and recognize the policies stated in the Declaration of Washington.

"TURKISH" DELIGHT—Basketball coach Peter Newell shuns peanuts and hot dogs when his University of California team takes the court at Berkeley, Calif. All he craves is a good, husky towel. Newell, shown during a tense moment in a USC-Cal game, is harder on the towels than are the players.

Infrared Brooders In Style Nowadays

COLLEGE STATION—Poultry producers are turning more and more to the infrared lamp method of brooding chicks, says W. L. Ulich, Extension Agricultural Engineer.

If you are among those poultrymen who have not yet considered this method and have electric power on your farm, you might like to consider a change from your present system, Ulich suggests.

Infrared brooders are light in weight, easy to set up, move, and store. And you can see the chicks without lifting a hover.

Readymade infrared brooders are available, with a large range of marketing prices, depending on the number of lamps used, the type of brooder, and whether they have automatic regulators.

You might make a brooder yourself, says Ulich. Simple plans for building an infrared brooder have been prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Copies of these can be obtained from county agricultural agents.

Another advantage of infrared brooders, according to Ulich, is that the lamps have many other uses around the farm and home. They can be used for brooding pigs, calves and lambs, for thawing frozen pigs, or even as a "heat lamp" in the home.

Courtesy Honors Dovie Keene

Dovie Keene, bride-elect of Bill Cherry, was complimented Friday evening with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. A. B. Holt.

Hotesses were Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Gladdis Samples, Mrs. R. A. Smith, Mrs. Murray Boston, Mrs. A. M. Cunningham, Mrs. E. H. Wright, Mrs. C. F. Rogers, Mrs. Hugh Greiner and Mrs. D. M. Foster.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Holt, the bride-elect, the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. E. L. Keene, and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. W. T. Cherry Sr.

Evanelle Palmer presided at the guest book, and Mrs. Hugh Greiner presided at the coffee service.

The honoree's colors of peach and snowy white were featured in an arrangement of peach gladiolas on the refreshment table which was laid with a white lace cloth and silver coffee service. White cake with peach decorations and nuts were served.

On Monday, Miss Keene was given a personal shower in the home of Frances Cunningham.

Hostesses were Miss Cunningham, Bettie Wimberly, Betty Burrus, Peggy Sheets, Alice Brotherton, Juanelle Burrus, Janelda Cunningham and Janis Wright.

Cinnamon red hot punch and cookies were served.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Tippery and family spent Sunday in Borger visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chandler.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McReynolds spent last weekend with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heare, in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shaver of Knox City spent the weekend with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Lair.

Wayside News

If you have been wondering why there was not any Wayside news last week it was because the writer was snowbound and her telephone was also out. No news but snow and more snow.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Pettit, R. E. Prichard, Mrs. Ida Johnson and Mrs. Virgil Tucker, all of Canyon, were visiting in the W. R. Franklin home just before the snow.

We had word of the death of Mrs. Tena Davis in Hutchinson, Kan., Feb. 4. She died after a long illness. Mrs. E. J. Mahler had been with her sister, Tena, for several weeks.

The Joyce Lane family is enjoying a new Dodge car.

The Rev. Merle Weathers filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and was a dinner guest in the Henry Hamblen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Robert and Richard, were Canyon callers one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Roberts, Princess and Deltah, were guests in the W. R. Moore home Feb. 1 to celebrate Deltah's birthday.

W. R. Moore of Tulia has been staying in the Leroy Roberts home during the snow and has been taking care of his stock on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamblen have remodeled lately their living room and have a new carpet on the floor.

The Wayside school was dismissed for several days because of the heavy snow that blocked the roads.

Clay-Holland Wed Recently

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clay are announcing the recent marriage of their daughter, Annell, to Taylor Hubert Holland Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Holland, 811 N. Grant in Amarillo. The Rev. Ford A. Ellis read the single-ring ceremony Jan. 29 in the parsonage of the North Amarillo Christian Church.

The bride wore a linen suit and red accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds.

Mrs. Holland received her B. A. and Masters of Education degrees at West Texas State College where she was a member of Alpha Chi, national honor society, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Mary E. Hudspath, honor society, and Buffalo Masquers. She is employed as a second grade teacher at Fritch, Texas.

The bridegroom owns the tower T. V. and Radio shop.

They will be at home in Amarillo.

Soil Helped By Fumigation

COLLEGE STATION—Root knot disease can be controlled in garden soils by fumigation.

Extension Plant Pathologist H. E. Smith says the fumigant should be applied from 10 days to two weeks before planting and soil moisture should be adequate for germinating seed. More moisture is required in sandy soils.

Before fumigating, remove from the area to be treated all plant trash and infected roots. Prepare a good seed bed as if for planting.

Use a hoe or plow to open furrows 6 to 8 inches deep and 12 inches apart. Apply the fumigant from a fruit jar. Two holes should be punched in the jar lid, one to let in air and the other for distributing the fumigant.

Make the application by walking along the open furrow and dribbling the fumigant into the bottom of the furrow. Smith advises covering the furrow immediately to prevent loss of the fumigant gases.

He says a pint of the material should cover about 150 feet of row space. It is a good idea, he adds, to test first with water in the jar to determine how fast to walk in order to make the proper distribution.

He says Garden Dowfume, D-D, Soilfume 60-40, Iscobrome 40 and Bromofume 40 are all effective as garden fumigants.

Severe injury may result if the fumigant application is made closer than two feet to growing plants. Keep the material out of the eyes and mouth and should it be accidentally spilled on the hands or clothing, remove it immediately with soap and water or kerosene, cautions Smith.

Since such warm weather crops as tomatoes, peas, cucumbers and okra are more susceptible to root knot damage, the specialist suggests fumigating the rows where they will be planted. Finally, he adds, don't mix treated and untreated soil and use disease-free transplants.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

An Austin district court has cleared the way for liquidation of the assets of U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. This means that creditors may get back at least a part of their investments from the defunct concern.

Judge Charles O. Betts ordered the company and two subsidiaries US Automotive Service and Arkansas Fire and Marine Insurance Co., into permanent receivership. What exact percentage creditors will recover is not yet known.

Rep. Bert McDaniel of Waco, US Trust attorney, filed a petition for certified draft holders asking that they be given priority. If the petition is granted, said an Insurance Commission attorney, they will get all their money back.

Some 5,600 draft holders put in an estimated $5,800,000.

State testimony on US Trust operations cited many examples of unorthodox bookkeeping, annual statements bolstered by borrowing, blown-up real estate values, and minutes of board meetings never held.

Judge Betts released personal assets of six company directors from an injunction banning disposal. But he made it clear they were not dismissed as defendants or freed from liability as directors.

Refund of attorney's fees by members of the Texas Legislature is helping to increase the assets of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty Co. Two state senators started the ball rolling by announcing they were sending to the liquidators all legal fees received from US Trust — to be divided by creditors.

Senators William Shireman of Corpus Christi and Carlos Ashley of Llano said they had not been given an opportunity to earn their retainers. Shireman received $3,000; Ashley, $10,000. Both were paid in cash.

A four-pronged investigation is under way by committees from both the House and the Senate to: (1) check functions of the Insurance Commission, (2) study circumstances surrounding operation and collapse of US Trust and Guaranty Co., (3) determine if remedial legislation is needed, and (4) investigate lobbying practices.

A. B. Shoemake, US Trust president who shot himself through the head Jan. 7, was moved from a private hospital in Waco to the Veterans Administration Hospital in McKinney. Family spokesmen said they were no longer able to pay heavy hospital bills.

Doctors would not comment on whether they thought Shoemake, apparently the only person who knows, or ever knew, the ins and outs of US Trust, would ever recover sufficiently to testify.

Insurance Commissioner Garland A. Smith, hospitalized with a stomach ailment two weeks ago, has resigned. His doctor recommended indefinite rest. Smith said he felt he had been made the "whipping boy" in the current controversy.

Critics of the administration had sought to strike at the governor through him, he said.

Gov. Allan Shivers and Com. Chmn. J. Byron Saunders refuted "scandal" charges in luncheon speeches last week. "Whenever there is a violation of the law and the commission takes action against a company, there seems to be a 'scandal'," said Saunders. He predicted results of the "solvency call" due on May 31 will reveal only about 5 per cent of Texas' 1,400 companies to be unsound.

Taking a similar tack, the governor said that in the past six years only 15 out of 29,000 state employes had been fired, suspended or indicted for dishonesty. It is unfair, he contended, to smear the honest majority, because of the actions of a few.

Every day brings with it evidence of the commission's new "get tough" policy.

Hearing was set for April 3 to consider revising credit insurance rates. These have come in for sharp criticism recently as providing a legal means of greatly increasing charges on small loans.

Blunt warnings were issued to persons violating the new securities law. "Although bona fide personal investments are not subject to registration," said a letter to insurance company executives, "securities owned by officers, directors or salesmen cannot be sold unless registered."

Land, Insurance Trials Set

Trials involving two statewide issues, insurance and veterans lands, are scheduled for Austin district courts.

B. R. Sheffield, Brady land dealer, is to be tried March 5 on nine indictments charging felony theft in connection with the veterans land program.

Paul and Leslie Lowry and D. H. O'Fiel of Beaumont will come to trial April 2 on charges of committing perjury in sworn statements to the Insurance Commission. They were connected with three companies placed in receivership in late 1953.

Short Snorts

February 22 has been designated by Governor Shivers as U. S. Army Reserve Day in Texas. The date, Washington's birthday, also is National Guard Day in Texas and the final day of National Defense Week.

Public Schools Week has been proclaimed by Governor Shivers as March 5-10.

License to operate Girlstown USA has been revoked by the State Department of Public Welfare. But enforcement awaits a study by an advisory board. In question is responsibility of management. Girlstown is a home for wayward girls at Whiteface.

Screening of applicants for its $15,000-a-year directorship is under way by the Texas Commission on Higher Education. Final selection will be made on Feb. 20.

Building material and labor costs were 24 per cent lower in 1950 than in 1955. So, although Texas spent 13 per cent more on construction in 1955 the actual volume of building done was 9 per cent smaller than five years ago.

An improved law to protect fresh water reservoirs from pollution has been suggested by the Texas Water Resources Committee. A bill will be submitted to the Texas Legislature in 1957 specifying that any person or firm found guilty of polluting fresh water shall be fined $100 a day or given 30 days in jail, with each day a separate offense.

J. Earl Rudder, chairman of the Veterans Land Board, announces acceptance of bids on 14 tracts of land reclaimed by the state under the veteran's loan program.

Dr. Frank P. Bertram is the new director of the division of dental health in the State Health Department. He has held a similar position with the Oklahoma Health Department, where he worked for 18 years.

Texas' draft call for March is for 774 men, a substantial increase over 289 for February and 283 for January.

Cities with the highest percentage of employment, according to latest Texas Employment Commission reports are, in this order: Dallas, Houston-Baytown area, Fort Worth, El Paso, Longview, Lubbock, Amarillo, San Angelo, Waco, Corpus Christi, Abilene, Beaumont, Galveston and Texarkana.

Half a million poll taxes now in control of state labor groups tin, Wichita Falls, San Antonio, will be used to push for the repeal of 13 anti-labor laws in Texas, Lester Graham, regional director of AFL-CIO, declared at a labor-law institute held in Austin.

Nine University of Texas athletes became "grade casualties" on mid-term reports at UT. Ineligible to participate in sports until their grades are back up to standard are two football players, three basketball men, two track men, a swimmer and a golfer.

TELEPHONE TALK

by A. O. Thomas, District Manager

The new year is a good time to look back — and to look ahead — so I thought you'd be interested in some recent statements by R. A. Goodson, general manager of the telephone company in Texas.

Mr. Goodson says that we plan to invest $106 million for new construction in Texas in 1956 — the largest telephone construction program in the state's history. This is in addition to $229 million for operating expenses and taxes.

What the Record Shows

The decision to go ahead with an unprecedented construction and improvement program is based on these factors:

The industrial production of Texas is several times greater than 10 years ago. Population has increased 12.25 per cent in five years. The construction industry in Texas remains strong, retail sales continue upward, and business is generally healthy.

Number of Telephones Doubled

Since 1945, the number of telephones in Texas has doubled. There are now more than 2 million telephones serving Texas, and 93 per cent of them are dial telephones.

The telephone company has spent $760 million gross for construction in Texas since 1945. This expenditure has contributed much to Texas' growth. The annual payroll for 26,000 telephone people in Texas is $103 million.

"Despite this growth," Mr. Goodson points out, "some families are waiting for telephones or higher grades of service. We're keenly aware of those people and we're doing everything possible to bring them service as quickly as possible."

Our New Frontier

Texas was born of revolution, grew up with cattle and oil industries, matured and broadened in our generation. Yet, the new frontier ahead has greater promise than had the frontier of the past.

"Texas is facing its most interesting and challenging years," Mr. Goodson says. "The prospects are bright. That's why the telephone company in 1956 will undertake the largest telephone construction program in the history of Texas."

Income Tax Facts

Exemptions Cut Your Tax Bill

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

This year's redesigned tax forms make it easy for you to indicate the personal exemptions to which you are entitled.

Every taxpayer is entitled to one exemption, which means a deduction of $600. Those 65 or over have a double personal exemption, and blind persons of all ages have an extra exemption. These rules apply to both husband and wife on joint returns.

In addition, you are entitled to one exemption for each qualified dependent, but the extra exemptions for age and blindness cannot be taken for dependents.

To qualify for an exemption a dependent must:

1. Have received more than half his support from you, unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below). In figuring support, scholarships received by your child do not count.

2. Have less than $600 gross income unless he is your child and under 19 or a student.

3. Not file a joint return.

4. Have been either a member of your household or closely related to you, as defined in the official instructions. Although cousins are not usually "close relatives" for tax purposes, a cousin receiving institutional care for a mental or physical disability who lived with you before going to the institution would qualify.

5. Have been either a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, the Canal Zone or, in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines.

Your exemptions usually depend on whether you and your dependents qualify under these rules at the end of the year. However, if your husband or wife died during the year you may file a joint return and take the same exemptions that both of you would have otherwise had. Similarly, if a dependent died during the year, the rules are applied as of the time of his death.

If you shared with others in the support of a dependent, but none of you provided more than half you may still be able to arrange among you for one of the group to have the $600 exemption. You might agree, for example, to take turns in having the exemption from year to year.

The one who claims the exemption must have contributed more than 10% of the support, and he must have been a member of a group who altogether provided more than half the support. Each member of this group must have been entitled to claim the dependent except for the requirement of providing more than half the support.

In order for one of the group to have the exemption all other members of the group who contributed over 10% must sign declarations that they will not claim the dependent. The Internal Revenue Service provides Form 2120 (Multiple Support Agreement) for this purpose.

Be sure to claim all the exemptions you properly can, because each one reduces your taxable income by $600.

If you are supporting dependents, but are not able to file a joint return, you may qualify as the "head of a household" and be entitled to use a special schedule of tax rates that give you half the benefits of income splitting.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

School Milk, Lunch Expanding

COLLEGE STATION—Both the School Lunch and School Milk Programs continued to expand during the first half of the current school year.

The number of children eating complete lunches under the National School Lunch Program is up 10 per cent over last year, and the number of schools approved for the Special School Milk Program is up 48 per cent.

Texas now has 2,061 schools approved for the program. The National School Lunch Program provides children with well balanced lunches furnishing one-third of their daily nutritional requirements.

There were 9,400,000 children eating lunches with milk under this program in October. This is a gain of 10 per cent over the 8,500,000 children in October of last year.

Over 2,000,000 more were participating in the milk-only feature of the National School Lunch Program last year, making a total participation of nearly 11,000,000. This year, however, this feature has been consolidated under the revised Special School Milk Program.

The Special School Milk program, now in its second year of operation, is designed to increase the consumption of milk by school children, both in schools having feeding facilities and in other schools where space limitations or other factors prevent the establishment of food preparation and service facilities.

At mid-December, 62,000 schools had been approved for the program. Latest reports on actual consumption are for October. Fifty-four thousand schools were operating in the program. In that month, approximately 162 million half pints of milk were consumed under the program.

The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that 16 million school children were drinking milk in October under the program, and consuming milk at a rate of 17.8 million half pints a day.

HER SLIP SHOWS, TOO

The cute new stenographer had been coming to work in tighter skirts and lower necklines than the office manager thought appropriate.

"Miss Jones," he advised, "when you dress for the office in the future, could you please show a bit more decorum?"

"Really, sir," protested the sweet young thing, with outraged dignity, "if you want that, go to a burlesque show."

FOUND OUT

A young bride of three months complained to her relatives about her husband's continuous drinking habits.

"If you knew he drank, why did you marry him?" she was asked.

"I didn't know he drank," the girl replied, "until one night he came home sober."

Report Outlines Mineral Rights

COLLEGE STATION—A research report now available attempts to answer some of the problems Texas landowners encounter in managing their mineral rights.

"Mineral Rights Managements by Private Landowners" is the title of a publication issued jointly by the agricultural experiment stations in 13 states where mineral rights usually are a consideration in land ownership.

Information and guiding principles are so outlined that a landowner may answer for himself such questions as: How may I lease my land to best advantage? Should I sell some of my subsurface rights and at what price? Should I reserve mineral rights when I sell my land? Under what conditions should I buy land with no mineral rights or with only part of them?

Management of mineral rights is a growing problem, with 33 per cent of all land in the 13 states under oil or gas lease in 1954. Texas alone had 72 million acres under lease.

Income from subsurface rights in the 13 states since 1950 amounted to about three per cent of the annual gross cash income from agricultural production.

The authors, all agricultural economists, are L. A. Parcher, Oklahoma A&M College, and S. W. Voelker and John H. Southern USDA, cooperating with the North Dakota and Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations.

The researchers point out that in many lease situations the landowner should obtain legal advice.

A copy of the report, Publication 13 of the Great Plains Agricultural Council, may be obtained from county agricultural agents, or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

LUBBOCK—Folks who love to talk about the good old days had a ball last weekend. The deep snow put us back a couple of generations so far as conveniences go.

For without chains even the back wheels of the most powerful car will spin on ice. And in these days of paved roads and high speeds, how many people keep chains (if they own any) in the trunk of the car? If the lady next door got her car stuck, today's man of the house — in loafers and slacks — had to be as gallant as his forefather was in high boots and khakis.

And when the snow got a foot-and-a-half deep, paths had to be shovelled from the house — to the garage instead of to the cowlot and the woodpile. But it took as much energy to heave the shovel as it did for the pioneers.

Housewives who run to the grocery store every time they need salt or a stick of butter, last week went back to the homespun days of making do. At our house, for instance, when the snow banked highest, we used up the bread supply. Luckily, we had a yeast cake, so for the first time in months the family got homemade bread — aroma and all.

The best thing about being snowed in for several days was the time it gave us to stop and just be. We "had time" to telephone the friend who had been ill for two months; to write some notes; to take hot bread next door. With all the business cut out, for a few days at least, we went back to the slower, kindlier era when a frost-bitten ear was news, and when everyone in the block knew what everyone else was about.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District have helped farmers in the district install the following practices.

These practices were installed through the Agricultural Conservation Program. Ben Buecker, who lives 1½ miles northeast of Umbarger, installed 2500 feet of concrete pipe. This line was installed so that Buecker could get water from his new well back to his irrigated land. This is an extension of a line started last year.

Bob Black, who lives seven miles west of Canyon, also extended his concrete line 510 feet.

J. Ross French of Amarillo, who farms about six miles southwest of Bushland, has just completed a dam on his farm.

C. V. Conatser, district cooperator, who lives 5½ miles southeast of Canyon, has completed 5445 feet of standard terraces.

The soil scientist of the SCS has been busy making soil maps for farmers in this district.

The supervisors had to postpone their regular meeting last Tuesday due to bad weather. Most of the supervisors were snowed in, but the needed moisture received made it easier to stay home.

The snow has helped wheat and grass prospects. If this spring is wet, farmers and ranchers should think about planting grass on land that has good stubble to keep it from blowing for the rest of the season.

Moisture received from the snow will not keep the land from blowing, but we shouldn't have too many bad dust storms. Land should be chiseled if it appears likely to blow.

Rites Conducted For Mrs. Livesay

Final rites for Mrs. E. G. Livesay, of Plainview, mother of Jack Livesay of Canyon, were conducted Sunday afternoon in the Lockney First Methodist Church by the Rev. R. H. Campbell, pastor of the Olton Methodsit Church and formerly of Plainview.

Burial was in the Lockney Cemetery.

Mrs. Livesay, 56, died Thursday afternoon in the Surgical Clinic in Lockney.

Born June 9, 1899, in Lockney, Mrs. Livesay lived in Floyd County until 1952 when she moved to Plainview. She was a member of the Lockney First Baptist Church.

Survivors in addition to her son here include her husband, E. G. Livesay; two other sons, Teddy Gene Linvesay and J. T. Livesay; two daughters, Peggy Livesay and Mrs. Dorothy McLendon; her mother, Mrs. T. A. Neaves, Lockney; three brothers, Roy Neaves, Hereford, Jim Neaves, Midland, and Robert Neaves, Ontario, Calif.; and four grandchildren.

Softball League Meeting Feb. 24

An organizational meeting of the Canyon Softball League will be held at 7:30 p. m. Feb. 24 in the Oliver Farm Equipment building, 1701 Fifth Avenue.

All managers and sponsors of teams in the league last year and anyone interested in having a team is invited to attend the meeting.

The league will re-organize for the coming year and those meeting will attempt to adopt a constitution and playing rules to try to make the league a permanent one. One of the possible discussions will be the organization of an all-amateur league.

Mrs. Armstrong Taken by Death

Mrs. Effie Mae Armstrong, of Panhandle, mother of Gladys Armstrong of Canyon, died last Wednesday morning in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Funeral services for Mrs. Armstrong were conducted Friday afternoon in the Panhandle Methodist Church by Dr. Charles Wesley Garrett, pastor. Burial was in the Panhandle cemetery.

Mrs. Armstrong, 80, was born April 20, 1875, in Ashland, Kan., and moved to Panhandle in 1917.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church in Panhandle.

In addition to her daughter here, survivors include seven sons, Leo Armstrong, Auberry, Calif., Floyd Armstrong, Amarillo, David Armstrong, Panhandle, Wayne and Don Armstrong, Wichita, Kan., Ursel Armstrong, Ojai, Calif., and Glenn Armstrong, Singer, Calif.; a brother, Clarence Lucas, Great Bend, Kan.; a sister, Mrs. T. C. Held, Anahiem, Calif.; 20 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Fairview Breezes

The snow came again on Wednesday of last week. It blew and covered the roads so that the snow plows couldn't get through. The road crew had to get heavier equipment and worked all night Thursday night opening a one-way road to Wayside. It took them about 16 hours to open the road to Wayside, a distance of about 21 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley went to Tulia Tuesday to sit with Mrs. Wesley's mother who is ill in the hospital there and didn't get back home until Friday. They had to be pulled about 1½ miles by tractor.

There have been several pickups and trucks stuck in the snow and several have been torn up.

The H. H. Shipmans could get to Happy by way of Tulia.

Mrs. H. H. Shipman and Nan Earyle visited the Harveys in Happy Friday.

H. H. Shipman and Gene were in Amarillo Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley visited with the L. G. Airhearts and Ella Hext while stranded in Happy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson and Pat were in Canyon Wednesday and got stuck coming home. They had to be towed back to the highway and didn't get home until Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers were in Happy Tuesday where Mrs. Rogers had a medical checkup.

The G. E. Wesleys have been having quite a time pulling the snow, but both are still able to be up.

F. O. Amerson had the misfortune of getting his hand caught in a pressure pump belt and cut one finger off at the first joint and another was almost cut off and badly mangled. He is doing fine at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dean Cagle, in Tulia.

JAIL MONEY--

would also state that warrants in the amount of the estimated cost would be used to pay for the construction.

The contractor would then be paid with warrants, probably in the amount of $1,000 each, as the work progressed. The warrants would be exchanged for cash by the bond firm.

The bond firm would hold the warrants until construction was finished, and the commissioners would issue a refunding order that would change the warrants to bonds.

At that time, the amount of interest the bonds would carry would be negotiated between the commissioners and the bond firm, and would depend on the prevailing market rate. An alternate plan of fixing the interest rate at the time the first warrants were issued could also be used, but Hamilton and Davis said it would probably cost more in the long run if that plan were used.

They said the warrants would be issued bearing an interest rate in excess of three per cent most likely, but could not bear an interest over 3½ per cent. They said the refunding bonds could not bear an interest rate higher than the warrants.

In their proposal to the commissioners, Hamilton and Davis proposed a warrant interest rate of 3.25 per cent.

They said they would handle the warrants for a fee of one per cent of the total issued, and would pay all costs including refunding attorney's fees.

Hamilton and Davis said the bond election method would probably cost more in the long run even though bonds issued after an election would bear a lower rate of interest than refunding bonds. They said the difference in cost in a small issue would be more than made up in the cost of holding an election.

They said that they were attempting to act as professional advisors in telling the court of the methods, and were not trying to drum up business. They said, however, that they would like the opportunity of bidding on handling the financing of the proposed jail building.

In deciding to call for bond firms to meet with the court, the commissioners said they wanted to find the least expensive method of financing construction.

Randall County Grand Juries for the past several years have recommended a new jail for the county.

Rites Conducted for Former Canyonite

Mrs. James F. Webb, 52, whose husband has been a member of the education faculty at North Texas State College at North Texas State College for 21 years, died Feb. 8 at 5:30 a. m. in a cerebral hemorrhage at her home.

Mrs. Webb, a native of Denton, was the former Miss Mary Carlisle, whose father, the late J. S. Carlisle, served as school superintendent at Denton and at McKinney.

She was a past president of the Shakespeare Club and the NTSC Faculty Wives Club at Denton. Mrs. Webb taught in West Texas State College in 1926, '27 and '28. Mr. Webb is a graduate of WT and was principal and superintendent of the Canyon Public Schools. The Webbs left Canyon in 1929.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Feb. 9 in Cole Chapel of First Methodist Church, with burial in Roselawn Memorial Park in Denton.

She is survived by her husband and four sisters, Mrs. Howard Marshall of Austin and Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. Grace Moore and Miss Susie Carlisle, all of McKinney.

Former Resident Injured in Wreck

Mrs. J. T. Sykes, former Canyon resident, was injured Feb. 9 in an automobile wreck and is in critical condition in a hospital in Poteau, Okla.

She was on her way from her home at Siloam Springs, Ark., to Paris, Texas, to visit an aunt when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Sykes is suffering from a broken shoulder and collar bone, brain concussion, chest injuries, possible internal injuries and severe shock. She has been unconscious since the wreck and is considered in critical condition.

Details of the accident were not available here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes lived in Canyon from 1929 until they moved to Siloam Springs five years ago. Mrs. Sykes is the mother of Mrs. H. C. Adcock, who lives south of Canyon, and a sister of Mrs. Clarence Stallings, of Randall Hall at West Texas State.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Money returned Monday from visiting their daughter, Eloyce, who is in nurses training at the Porter Sanatorium in Denver, Colo. They also visited their son, Edel, in Boulder, Colo.

$1 for fuel, $2 for you!

That's just how it works out when you go to an Oliver diesel. Where you used to put, say, three dollars' worth of fuel in the tank, now it takes but one—you keep the other $2.00.

How can this be? Well, in the first place, you burn only six gallons of diesel fuel to ten of gasoline. Then, of course, your diesel fuel costs much less. These two factors—fewer gallons, lower price—knock as much as two-thirds off your fuel bills.

And Oliver diesels have no extra starting engine. There's no special starting fuel required. Remember, Oliver alone offers you a dollar-saving diesel in each of six wheel tractor sizes.

Around the Town . .

By DOVIE KEENE

Friday is World Day of Prayer, which will be sponsored by the United Church Women at the Presbyterian Church, and the theme will be "One Flock, One Shepherd," John 10:16.

The call to prayer which is to be used reads:

The Mighty One, God the Lord, speaks and summons the earth from the rising of the sun to its setting. —Psalms 50:1.

He speaks to each of us and to us all.

We are of many races and tribes . . . yet of one world.

We speak in varied tongues . . . but with one understanding.

We pray with unfaltering hope . . . and to one Guide and Shepherd.

On the World Day of Prayer

His goodness is unfailing;

Let us join in thankful praise,

His grace is all sufficient;

let us, then, confession raise,

His plan for man is perfect;

let us meditate and pray,

His way is peace and brotherhood;

let us dedicate our way.

And let us find it in our hearts to pray with Christians here and everywhere on the World Day of Prayer, that the time may more quickly come then there will be one flock, one Shepherd.

Recently, Mary Moss Richardson got a letter from a Korean child, Park Jong Ja, who had received her Christmas box.

Park Jong Ja was very enthusiastic in her letter and said, "There were two pretty boxes. Home Mother gave me one and Chung Nam the other. There were a beautiful doll, a bright stud, a ring, a bracelet, one piece (a sweater suit by Virginia Crounse), candy, a picture book, etc. The one-piece fits me well. I hold the doll in my arms, hanged the stud on my chest, put the ring on my finger and the bracelet on my wrist. I was surprised at finding a quite different girl in the mirror. I ate the candy with my friends tastefully. Your adopted child, Park Jong Ja."

Mrs. Ray Walters has a recipe for old fashioned ginger cookies that is quite good. To make these cookies you must:

Boil 1 cup of dark molasses 1 minute, add 1 cup sugar and 1 cup shortening, 2 tsp. ginger, 2 tsp. cinnamon, two well beaten eggs, four tsp. soda mixed with ¼ cup vinegar. Add about five cups flour or enough to make a stiff dough. Roll thin as desired. Sprinkle with sugar before baking if desired.

I heard a most disgusting remark recently. A woman said very complacently that she hadn't paid her poll tax but didn't see that it made much difference. She was just a housewife anyway.

Well, woman, take the old saying of "never underestimate the power of a woman to heart," and don't underestimate your own power.

In an article from the Dallas Morning News by Raymond Moley, which has been tucked away in my desk for several weeks, there are the views of that columnist that women could decide the 1956 election outcome.

Raymond Moley says, "It is reported that the political agencies of organized labor, notably the CIO-PAC, are deeply worried about keeping the wives of their members in line. There is news that the director of women's activities of the CIO has started a "family participation" program. The PAC is putting women on its various committees. Conferences have been held on 'correlate the ballot box with the bread box'."

Moley says that women have learned certain economic lessons that their husbands seem to have missed, such as when there is a victory for labor, there is an upsurge of prices.

Moley says the members of the British Labor Party awakened after the 1950 election to discover that their majority in Parliament had melted away, partly because the wives of trade unionists were tired of the government's blunders in rationing and food-buying policies. And that labor wives were asking whether there was any way for their husbands to find out how they voted.

According to Moley, pollsters who studied the 1952 election returns reported that many labor wives were beginning to realize that their financial status entitled them to belong to the so-called "white collar" class and that they were following that group into the Republican Party. And that the Republican Party was quite aware of the situation and was planning for more participation by women in its local campaigns.

Finally Moley says the way to win the woman's vote is to make the same appeal to them made to the men and to treat the woman as an equal, not a special problem.

Do you have the same question in your mind as I do? Namely, how many women in Randall County paid their poll tax, will use that right and if their influence will have the effect Moley speculates?

Monday in The News office, it was almost like the last minute Christmas shopping rush, at least in the Valentine card department. It was definitely the most popular spot in the store. Seems as if most people wait until the last minute no matter what the occasion.

I enjoyed myself very much watching the people choose Valentines. Every once in a while in a burst of light giggles would come from a group of girls who was having a gay time reading the verses and working the action cards, or chuckles from male groups.

Later I went down and looked over the card selection and found out what had produced the laughter. My favorite was one picturing a love-sick, starry-eyed hippopotamus holding a big red heart that said "To My Valentine," and below him was a message, "Aw, come on." Inside was a plea, "howsa bout a kiss?" and the hippo's big mug all puckered and waiting.

Another funny one was a card that pictured a he and she rabbit and the message, "Our case is pure and simple." And after opening the card, a rabbit with a halo and one with a dumb expression with the words, "I'm pure and you're simple."

MRS. HAROLD WILKINSON

Masters-Wilkinson Are Married In Recent Informal Ceremony

Married in a recent service were Patricia Masters, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bert A. Masters, and Harold Wilkinson, son of Orville Wilkinson, 807 Prospect, Amarillo, and the late Mrs. Wilkinson.

The Rev. N. Cole read the double-ring service in Central Baptist Church at Clovis, N.M.

Matron-of-honor, Mrs. Michael Larkin, wore a beige knit dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was a white camellia.

Norris Wilkinson of Amarillo was his brother's best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose a toast colored, pure silk dress which was styled with tucks from the neckline to the hem of the full skirt. Her accessories were brown, and she carried a white prayer book topped with yellow roses.

After a wedding trip to New Mexico, Arizona and Mexico, the couple is to be at home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Wilkinson was graduated from Amarillo High School and attended the University of Texas School of X-ray Technology, Austin, and Ford Hospital, Detroit, Mich. She works as an X-ray technician for Dr. Edward Thomas.

The bridegroom was graduated from Amarillo High School and attended Amarillo College and Denver University. He is co-owner of the Production Feed and Seed Co.

Westside Club Has Valentine Party

The Westside Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. B. A. Burrus for their regular meeting. Secret pals exchanged valentines during the short recreation period.

During the business meeting, the group cancelled the March of Dimes party but those present donated to the polio fund. THDA dues were paid 100 per cent. Mrs. Lewis Harvey presided. Mrs. T. J. Myers read a poem as devotional.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, tea and coffee were served by the hostess to 15 members.

Mrs. Ed Bourn is hostess Feb. 15.

● Refugees

On Feb. 13 at 3 p. m. the council of Refugees met at Rest Cottage. After prayer, the blank form for Assurances was read and discussed.

Mrs. Marion Higdon has received material from the Christian Church regarding the refugee movement. Encouraging reports were heard, but they were not matured enough for publication because of the necessary red tape involved. It will be weeks, maybe months, before any word may come. Further notice will appear as word develops.

National Delegate Elected Thursday

The Palo Duro Mothers-in-Law Club met on Thursday in the home of Mrs. Rae Walters with Mrs. Mae Johnson as co-hostess. Valentine games were led by Mrs. Johnson during the social hour.

Mrs. G. B. Combs, a guest from the Canyon Mothers-in-Law Club, installed the officers for the coming year.

The national Mothers-in-Law meeting will be held in Amarillo at the Federated Women's Club House, 2001 Wolflin Circle, at 2 p. m. March 8. All members of the club are urged to attend this meeting as there will be no regular meeting of the club in Canyon on that day.

Mrs. P. L. Pitt and Mrs. George Barker were elected as delegates to the national convention with Mrs. Bill Money as alternate.

There will be an old hat and dress party on April 12 in the home of Mrs. J. P. Hammons.

Refreshments of heart shaped cheese sandwiches, pickles, cookies and coffee were served to Mrs. Combs and members of the club.

FEB. 22 IS U. S. ARMY RESERVE DAY IN TEXAS!

YOUNG MEN WANTED

UNCLE SAM needs young men for his peacetime Army of Reservists. YOUNG MEN need what Uncle Sam has to offer.

Strong nations seldom are attacked. It is only when a nation becomes weak, when its military strength is at a low ebb . . . when its men are untrained for battle . . . that an enemy strikes. To keep peace — keep strong. For a nation to maintain military might it must have a large, well-trained Ready Reserve — well versed in the latest in military know how and equipment.

It is up to the young men of America to provide this manpower. Under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 American youth may continue in school with a minimum of interruption, while serving in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Investigate. Contact your nearest U.S. Army Reserve Unit.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
By Mary Lee Taylor

Cherry Cobbler

1 lb. 4-oz. can sour, pitted cherries
2 Tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
⅔ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons butter
1 cup biscuit mix
2 Tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup Pet Evaporated Milk

Drain cherries. Measure juice and add water, if necessary, to make 1 cup. Mix in a bowl the tapioca, 2/3 cup sugar, the salt, cherries and juice. Put into a baking dish holding about 6 cups. Dot top with butter. Bake on rack slightly above center in 450 oven (extremely hot) for 10 min. While cherry mixture is baking, put biscuit mix and 2 Tablespoons sugar into a quart bowl. Stir in milk. Remove hot cherry mixture from oven. Drop dough from a Tablespoon into 4 portions on top. Bake on center rack of oven 10 min. longer or until dumplings are light brown. Serve warm. Makes 4 servings.
